

TRAVEL
WISCONSIN™

2013
ART & CRAFT
FAIRS
DIRECTORY

Welcome!

As Governor, it is always a pleasure providing visitors with another reason to visit Wisconsin and this time I invite you to discover our arts. This year will mark 37 years that the Art & Craft Fairs Directory has provided an invaluable guide to art enthusiasts, tourists and artists alike and one that I hope you will use again and again.

Travel our highways and discover a plein air festival in Door County or folk art at the Paul Bunyan Fest in Eagle River as we celebrate an industry that not only employs 50,000 people in our state but showcases a truly renewable resource – creativity and imagination. Whether you prefer music, fine arts or crafts in one of our small towns or urban centers, you will find it listed in this comprehensive guide.

Join us where the arts are alive and vibrant and where our artists produce tangible memories for you to take home after your visit.

Sincerely,

Scott Walker
Governor

General Information

The Wisconsin Arts & Craft Fairs Directory is a comprehensive listing of art and craft fairs held throughout the state. The directory is available free of charge, and provides both general information for the public, as well as specific requirements for potential art and craft exhibitors.

The events listed within this directory are also posted on the Wisconsin Arts Board website at www.artsboard.wisconsin.gov and the Portal Wisconsin website at www.portalwisconsin.org.

Advertising a Fair

All art and craft fairs held in the State of Wisconsin and open to the general public are eligible for inclusion in this directory. In order to be included, sponsors must submit both an application and a listing fee to the Wisconsin Department of Tourism. Listing fees currently range from $25 to $250 and are calculated according to a formula provided on our website at industry.travelwisconsin.com.

The Wisconsin Art & Craft Fairs Directory is not a juried list. Information included is obtained directly from fair sponsors.

To Receive Additional Copies

Additional copies of the Wisconsin Art & Craft Fairs Directory may be obtained by calling the Wisconsin Department of Tourism, Monday through Friday, 8am to 4:30pm at 1-800/432-8747. Copies may also be ordered online at travelwisconsin.com.

Key to Eligibility Definitions

ASHLAND MURAL WALK.

The Art of Discovery – DIY Tours

Art can show up in the most unexpected places. Maybe it's just a Sunday drive or running an errand and taking a wrong turn, and suddenly a burst of color catches the corner of your eye. Before you know it, a 20' mural on the side of a building pops into view. That's the Art of Discovery.

Sometimes historic, sometimes futuristic but always fun, many towns are showing their true colors in murals, sculptures or installations that form a DIY tour of art, just waiting to lead you on at your own pace. "Open" for viewing 24/7/365, we'll give you a hint and let your inner explorer provide direction.

Barn Quilts of Wisconsin

Wisconsinites consider barns an art form unto themselves. After all, they are emblematic of our way of life and come in lots of varieties, from round to rectangle, gabled to gambrel, fieldstone to wood. Now, many are being jazzed up with the addition of quilts. Not the fluffy, keep you warm on a cold night variety, but rather an 8 by 8 foot wood piece of art (or some other square configuration) affixed to the side of a barn for all to see. Often created by volunteers, all that's needed is a willing barn owner to donate hanging space, and there have been lots of willing types in these parts. In fact, Wisconsin is considered a leader in this rural art movement, and we think that's as it should be given it honors the agri way of life.

Barn quilt tours are becoming so popular for motorcoach outings and Sunday afternoon drives that communities have even started putting out maps for self-guided tours that include stories about the barns, the inspirations for the quilt designs, and profiles of the people who created them.

This symbol of comfort is showing up in Green County big time, with a whopping 115 plus barns are on display there. Shawano County isn't far behind with more than 100 barn quilts, and Rock County has 70 and counting. Lafayette County is using its 60 barn quilts to promote the culture and history of the area. Barn quilts in Kewaunee County appear on historically significant barns. In Marquette County, there are some 40 barn quilts and murals. Columbia County is new to this but already you can see how artistic expression is being encouraged in the creation of their first half-dozen barn quilts. Add Door, Walworth and Racine Counties to round out your barn quilt itinerary.

This is an art form that makes people feel good about where they live, and we dare say makes visitors feel good about where they visit too.

Art Schools in Wisconsin

The pristine beauty of Wisconsin continues to serve as inspiration and muse to over 3,000 Wisconsin artists. Whether it's the rustic environment of the Northwoods or the rolling hills of southern Dane County, Wisconsin's landscape captivates an artist's eye. Should a desire to experience the artistic process first-hand awaken in you, one of the many schools found in Wisconsin can answer this call. Retreat and immerse yourself in the creative spirit with one of these options.

Dillman's Creative Arts Foundation, Lac du Flambeau: Dillman's three state-of-the-art studios host internationally known instructors. Expansive programs range from painting in encaustic, oil, or acrylic, pastel, to photography, quilting, and writing. www.dillmans.com

School of the Arts at Rhinelander: Rhinelander's School of the Arts will celebrate its 50th anniversary July 20-26, 2013. This one-week arts immersion course includes intro to drawing, glass fusion, etching, portraits, landscapes and plein air painting. <http://continuingstudies.wisc.edu>

Bjorklunden - Lawrence University Seminar Center: Baileys Harbor
Bequeathed to Lawrence University in 1963, Bjorklunden vid Sjön (Birch Forest by the Water), a 425 acre estate on Lake Michigan, offers extensive adult-education seminars from Shakespeare's poetry to watercolor to music. www.lawrence.edu

Peninsula School of Art, Fish Creek: For 45 years, Peninsula School of Art has been a year-round destination for artists and art enthusiasts of all ages and levels. Programs include painting, drawing, metal arts, ceramics, sculpture and photography. www.peninsulaartschool.com

The Clearing Folk School, Ellison Bay: Believing that one's own regional ecology and culture is fundamental, Jens Jensen founded the Clearing as a place where instruction is non-competitive. Their folk school is a unique place where adults who share an interest in nature, arts or humanities can learn, reflect and wonder. <http://theclearing.org>

Washington Island Art and Nature Center: A 1904 schoolhouse serves as the Art & Nature Center (ANC). Whether its' lectures on nature, children's workshops in origami, ANC is devoted to the preservation and promotion of the creative arts and natural history of Washington Island. www.wianc.org

Madeline Island School of the Arts: A restored dairy farm surrounded by Lake Superior is home to one of the country's premier art and craft schools, Madeline Island School of the Arts. Accessible only by ferry, boat, plane, wind sled or car (when the lake is frozen), classes in painting, quilting, writing, photography are offered for college credit. www.madelineartschool.com

Valley Ridge Art Studio, Muscoda: Southwestern Wisconsin's Valley Ridge Art Studio provides 2-day immersion retreat workshops taught by world-class artists in areas as diverse as painting, book arts, jewelry, metals and mosaics on its 100 year old farm. www.valleyridgeartstudio.com

Shake Rag Alley School of Arts & Crafts, Mineral Point: Shake Rag Alley's list of classes entices youth and adult of all skill levels. With over 200 offerings, this school is always busy. Whether it's a half-day class or full week retreat, spots fill up fast so advanced planning is encouraged. www.shakeragalley.com

Whispering Woodlands, Verona: One woman's vision and dream became a school hosting local professional artists as instructors. View their work then learn their techniques in workshops ranging from fiber arts to encaustic. www.whispering-woodlands.com

Wisconsin's Public Art

Wisconsin has a wealth of art that truly belongs to the people. Statues and monuments have long decorated our parks and government buildings. Since 1980, over 1,000 separate pieces of public art have been added and installed where it's accessible to everyone. Some are hidden in plain view, so much a piece of daily life that you may not recognize it.

Whether it's a glass sculpture by former UW Alum Dale Chihuly, the mathematically inspired Fibonacci Chimes located in the Institute for Discovery, or a 1931 bubbler designed by Vilas Zoo director Fred Winkelmann, it's waiting for discovery.

Let it tickle your imagination, capture you in its creative web and engage all your senses. Wisconsin's art is begging you to come and explore. Finding this fun is easy! For more information go to: artsboard.wi.gov/percentforart/index.html

Indigenous or Native Art of Wisconsin

Native American art is about evolution. While works by Wisconsin Native artists can be rooted in tradition, it also has important things to say about the modern world and the future. Some Native Wisconsin artists take the traditional and lend it a new twist, for art is created in the present, not frozen in time.

Going to the original source of art will always provide you with an experience – it's where stories can be shared and mutual understandings grow. Here, you can learn from the artists themselves and celebrate Wisconsin's history through its diverse culture. We encourage you to explore further.

Morrow's Native Art, Hayward

Artist and teacher Ramona Morrow of the Lac Courte Oreilles Band of Lake Superior Chippewa and Yankton Sioux, provides gallery space for her Cattail dolls along with numerous Native artists from the Hayward area. Morrow's offers a wide variety of "Hand Crafted" Native American art including bead work, birch and ash baskets, headdresses, regalia, moccasins, cradle boards, dream catchers and paintings. 715/699-4671. www.morrownativeart.net

Native Spirit Gifts & Gallery, Bayfield

Native Spirit Gifts & Gallery calls out to the traveler seeking fine Native arts. Located on the Red Cliff Indian Reservation, this gallery offers traditional Anishinabe Ojibwe (Chippewa) art from the Great Lakes Region. Works include bead work, locally made birch bark baskets, full size hand-crafted birch bark canoes, dream catchers, quill boxes, books, and music. A cultural display provides visual education for deeper understanding. www.hawkdancer.com/nsgg.htm

Woodland Indian Art Center, Lac du Flambeau

Woodland Indian Art Center is home to a gallery featuring Native Woodland regional artwork as well as a thriving cultural center. Both traditional and contemporary artwork is represented in its carvings, birch bark baskets, jewelry, paintings and bead work. Additionally, classes, workshops and demonstrations in music, writing and dancing round out this center's offerings. Whether you are a collector or student of fine Native artwork, Woodland Indian Art Center can assist you. 715/588.3700. <http://woodlandindianartcenter.org>

Chief Oshkosh Native American Arts, Egg Harbor

Chief Oshkosh in Egg Harbor has been an outlet for Wisconsin Native American artists for over 60 years. Roy Oshkosh, leader of the Menominee Nation, established the business as Chief Oshkosh Trading Post on land once popular as a summer site for Native Americans. Today, Oneida artist and teacher Colleen Bins is slowly reshaping its future with an emphasis on the Woodland region of native peoples. The gallery features works by watercolorist Dawn Dark Mountain of Madison, painter Mary Prescott, doll maker Judith Jourdan of Oneida, and wooden flute maker Michael Farmer of Baily's Harbor. An amphitheater in back provides space for performance art. 920/686-3240

Indian Summer Festival (September 6-8, 2013), Milwaukee's Lakefront

Indian Summer Festival is the state's largest American Indian cultural event celebrating the traditions, foods, games, stories, and art of Native Americans. The festival's Circle of Art exhibit features fine art curated from Native artists across North America through a juried process. In addition, artisans demonstrate their crafts from wood carving, basket weaving and beadwork to pottery. www.indiansummer.org

ROBB FISCHER

Art on the March

Dotted throughout the rolling hillsides, forests and lakeshores of Wisconsin are studios where artists create their works and at special times of the year open their doors to arts enthusiasts to explore. North, south, east or west, your choice of direction is the right one – for studio locations are as diverse as the medium artists use in their creations.

Getting started is easy – may we suggest a sense of adventure and love of discovery? So take the plunge and connect the dots from art to Wisconsin to you.

Plein Air or Making Art “In the Open Air”

Art. It's not magic, it's a process. It's a skill that can be taught and observed in action. Wisconsin's natural beauty sets the stage for our plein air artists who seek to capture all the great outdoors has to offer in real time, on location, where bug spray may be just as important as green paint and brushes.

Want to know “how do they do that?” This is the time and place to learn from the experts. Generally lasting 3-5 days, plein air festivals welcome those who want to know more, and welcome your questions while letting you observe first-hand the mechanics and skill that are the building blocks of creative expression.

Each year, the number of plein air events grows. Some are competitions where prize money is awarded, others are community fund raisers where arts enthusiasts can bid on fresh off the brush artwork. But always, it is the artist taking on nature rain or shine.

We will set you on a path with some dates to mark on your calendar then hope you'll tap into the Wisconsin Plein Air Painters Association's website – <http://wipapa.blogspot.com/> – where the latest events are listed. Who knows, you may even be inspired to join in the fun.

IN WISCONSIN

April 22, 1970. The first Earth Day. Founded by Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin to raise environmental consciousness.

Wisconsinites continue to dig in to the Earth Day tenets of preserving the environment and enhancing our quality of life.

That brings us to the notion of an eco-friendly vacation, a concept the Wisconsin Department of Tourism pioneered when it launched Travel Green Wisconsin™ in 2006. Travel Green was the first certification program in the country that went beyond accommodations to include tourism businesses of all sorts—events, attractions, restaurants, and everything in between.

So if leaving a lighter footprint is important to you, then consider patronizing the hundreds of Travel Green Wisconsin™ certified businesses when visiting. Visit travelwisconsin.com for a listing.

To summarize: Go green. Have fun. Rest easy.
