Welcome

Welcome to Wisconsin!

Welcome to four seasons of exploring, adventuring and enjoying all there is to “get out and do” in this beautiful state. Wisconsin has a knack for balancing tradition with cutting-edge, always seeking and finding new ways to have fun.

In Wisconsin you’ll find that we’ve taken our love of the land to the next level – creating a wide range of opportunities for you and your family to enjoy our woods, waters, prairies and cities. Wisconsin is the only state that’s home to two Great Lakes, America’s greatest river, and thousands of inland bodies of water. What’s more our state’s natural beauty is matched by the world-class amenities and culture of our towns and cities.

I invite you to experience our state’s beauty and hospitality. This guide will serve as your starting point for what I’m sure will be many fond memories and Wisconsin adventures. Thank you for visiting and please come back often.

Sincerely,

Scott Walker
Governor

How to use this guide

The Travel Wisconsin Activity Guide is divided into three sections: Fun on the Land, Fun on the Water, and Fun in the Snow. The Table of Contents on page 1 displays the recreational activities included in each of those sections. A detailed map of Wisconsin on page 3 shows the state's major cities and highways. The map divides the state into seven color-coded regions. Information for each activity is arranged alphabetically within each region. The map also shows the location of ten Gateway Visitor Information Centers located at key entrance points to Wisconsin.

More travel info sources

Pages 77 through 79 of this guide provide a list of additional tourism contact information including convention bureaus, chambers of commerce, and county and area tourism offices that are ready and waiting to help you plan your Wisconsin getaway.

Attraction notes

The Travel Wisconsin Activity Guide includes the location, phone number, Web site, season and hours of operation for more than 1,000 recreational businesses or facilities. However, there are many other interesting shops, parks, museums, scenic overlooks and attractions that are not listed. As you travel, let your natural curiosity and spirit of adventure lead you to them.

Before driving a long distance to any single business or facility, call ahead to be sure it will be operational when you arrive. Information for this guide was gathered from the Tourism database in May 2010. Things change; days and hours of operation may vary.

Note also that many businesses require travelers to make a reservation. Groups should always call ahead to make reservations and ensure good service.

Look for the leaf. It indicates certified Travel Green Wisconsin destinations that have invested in sustainable practices. In addition, look for helpful "green tips" throughout this guide.

Mobility impaired access

Many Wisconsin recreational businesses provide access for the mobility impaired. However, because the definition of "access" varies from facility to facility, this Guide makes no attempt to identify or qualify that access. Before you travel, call ahead to confirm access.

Historical, heritage and wildlife markers

There are nearly 500 Historical Markers placed along the state's highways and byways. Each tells an interesting and informative Wisconsin story.

Distinctive brown-and-white highway signs mark the location of nearly 300 heritage tourism sites – museums, historic districts and buildings. As you travel, enjoy these highlights of Wisconsin history.

State highways are also marked with signs indicating spots where you can observe Wisconsin's abundant wildlife population. Watch for the signs carrying an outline of binoculars, telling you watchable wildlife is nearby.

Wisconsin also preserves some of its most scenic, lightly traveled country roads for the leisurely enjoyment of bikers, hikers and motorists. Wisconsin's Rustic Roads are marked with unique brown and yellow signs; each is numbered and described online at www.dot.wisconsin.gov/travel/scenic/rusticroads.htm

State Parks and Forests

Wisconsin has 99 state parks, forests, trails and recreation areas. They offer an extensive variety of recreational facilities, as well as diverse and beautiful scenery. Most parks are open year-round; some are seasonal. Daily or annual Park Admission Stickers are required.

Road conditions

For a statewide report of detours, closures, traffic slow-downs or winter road conditions, call 511 or 1-866-511-WISC (9472).

TravelGreen Wisconsin

Tourism is big business in Wisconsin, however, we would be nowhere without our diverse natural resources and vast outdoor playground.

Travel Green Wisconsin was initiated by the Wisconsin Department of Tourism in 2006 to promote smart, environmentally friendly business practices. The first statewide certification program in the nation, Travel Green Wisconsin has become a model for sustainable travel efforts across the nation. As more and more travelers like you look to make your life a little more green, we hope you'll appreciate and support the tourism businesses that are working hard to reduce their own environmental impact.

As you travel, seek out the Travel Green Wisconsin logo. Businesses displaying the Travel Green Wisconsin certification have demonstrated their commitment to sustaining and preserving our state. We applaud them, and you, as dedicated stewards of the land that is Wisconsin.

Fun on the land

RI & LINDA MILLER

Wisconsin totals 35.8 million acres in the Upper Great Lakes basin. The northern third of the state is heavily forested, while farmland stretches across the fertile central and southern sections.

With more than fifteen million acres of pine and hardwood forest, Wisconsin offers plenty of habitat for wildlife and recreation. Fifty-three state parks and recreation areas, ten state forests and one national forest total more than two million acres of outdoor playground. These parks and forests offer thousands of miles of trails for hiking, biking, horseback riding, ATVing, snowmobiling and cross-country skiing. Campers can choose from 7,000 public and 54,000 private campsites.

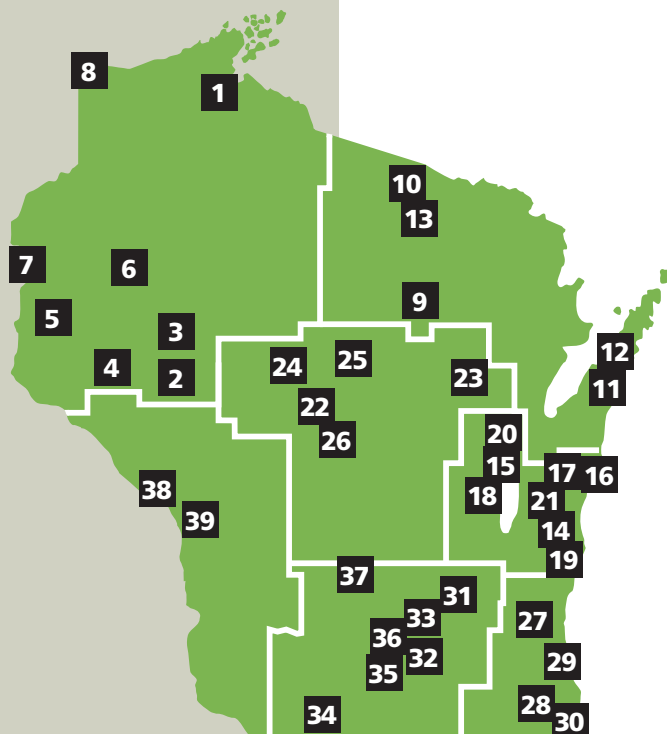

Wisconsin's glacial heritage left some terrific terrain for golf—more than 400 courses are open for public play. Birders can enjoy and record more than 250 avian species. There are waterfalls and lighthouses to explore, breweries and wineries to tour, cheese to sample, and trains to ride.

Experience it all. From the towering limestone bluffs that shoulder the Mississippi to the mysterious sea caves of the Apostle Islands; from the chiseled beauty of the Wisconsin Dells to sunset in the sanctuary of the Horicon Marsh; from the roaring waters of Big Manitou Falls to the soothing cry of a loon on a Northwood's lake, this is Wisconsin.

◀ Sand Island Lighthouse in the Apostle Islands.

Auto Racing

Wisconsin is a hotbed of short track racing from street stocks to super stocks in more than forty venues across the state. Many NASCAR drivers cut their teeth on these Wisconsin tracks including 2003 Winston Cup Champion Matt Kenseth and the legendary Dick Trickle with more than 1,200 wins in his 40-year career. Most of the action takes place on weekends – Friday or Saturday nights.

Lake Wissota State Park just east of Chippewa Falls offers great autumn vistas with 18 miles of hiking trails. Brunet Island State Park north of Cornell offers a quiet autumn respite surrounded by the waters of the Chippewa and Fisher Rivers.

6. KEWAUNEE & DOOR COUNTIES

800/527-3529

www.doorcounty.com

Protected by the warming waters of Lake Michigan, the hardwoods of Kewaunee and Door Counties make a colorful autumn drive. You can trace Hwy 42 north from Manitowoc to Gills Rock at the very tip of the Door County thumb (106 miles). Along the way, enjoy terrific bluff-top views of the lake, five popular state parks, seven picturesque lighthouses in as many charming towns, 250 miles of marvelous Lake Michigan shoreline, and a ferry ride to Washington Island.

7. MARINETTE COUNTY

800/236-6681

www.marinettecounty.com

Marinette County's Waterfall Tour is a scenic wonder in autumn; a series of 14 falls and cataracts linked in a 125-mile loop tour. See one or see 'em all; make the trip as long or as short as you want. Half the falls are located in picturesque county parks, most with footbridges and wonderful picnic spots. It's sure-fire fall fun.

8. VILAS COUNTY

www.vilas.org

Of the 15,081 lakes the glacier gave the state, Vilas County got 1,318. This 41-mile tour traverses that lake country, mirrored in fall finery, through Wisconsin's quintessential Northwoods vacation destinations – from Eagle River to Sawyer/Star Lake to Boulder Junction to Manitowish Waters. Enjoy resort accommodations, supper club dining, fudge shops, moccasin stores, and autumn-arched roadways skirting sparkling blue lakes. In

CENTRAL

10. CENTRAL WISCONSIN

715/743-4224

Central Wisconsin's Hilltop Color Tour offers excellent opportunities for viewing fall's fiery hues from three of the state's highest points. A 60-foot observation tower at Rib Mountain State Park near Wausau affords a breathtaking perspective of the Wisconsin River Valley (888/948-4748). From 1,952 feet above sea level at Timm's Hill near Ogemaw, travelers can get a bird's-eye view of a vivid woodland panorama (800/269-4505). The Highground Veterans Memorial park at Neillsville occupies a ridge that overlooks colorful hillsides and glacial moraines.

11. CRANBERRY HIGHWAY

800/554-4484

cranberryhighway.com

For a glimpse of cranberry country during harvest time, visitors can take the self-guided, 60-mile Cranberry Highway Tour around Wood County. Not only does this area boast beautiful fall color, but it's also home to seas of scarlet berries when the cranberry marshes are flooded for harvest. Marsh tours are available. To the west, the Black River State Forest is a blaze of color. To the south, the 43,000 acres of the Necedah National Wildlife Refuge soars with 200 species of migratory birds and waterfowl.

12. SHAWANO COUNTY

www.shawanocounty.com

The sugar maples of Shawano County are particularly beautiful in autumn. For a quick trip, loop Shawano Lake on Hwy 22 and Cty H (15 miles). For a longer drive (55 miles), loop west out of Shawano on Cty M tracing the Embarrass River to Tigerton. Turn north on Cty J to Bowler; then back (east) to Shawano on Cty A. They're backroads, but they're beautiful.

13. WAUPACA COUNTY

888/417-4040

www.waupacaareachamber.com

Hwy. 22 from Montello to Waupaca (46 miles) in central Wisconsin is a pleasant north-south drive. In Montello there's a small waterfall at the old granite quarry that they turn on-and-off with a switch. In Wautoma, check out the produce and antiques at Finishing Touches Antiques. Just north of Wild Rose, you can see baby walleye, musky, northern and brown trout at the state fish hatchery, (open Mon-Fri 8-4, Sat & Sun 8-3, 920/622-3527). And in Waupaca, cruise the Chain O' Lakes aboard the Chief Waupaca, then hike 14 miles of trails at Hartman Creek State Park.

14. HOLY HILL ROAD

888/974-8687

www.visitwashingtoncounty.com

Holy Hill Road (Hwy 167) across southern Washington County is where the locals go on their Sunday fall color drives. Start just north of Germantown where you can tour the Dheinsville Settlement. Ten miles down the road, Glacier Hills County Park offers terrific views of Holy Hill. Follow Friess Lake Dr. south to Hogsback Road west where you'll drive a mile-long ridge of exceptional beauty. Rustic Road 33 (Shamrock Lane) is nearby and well signed.

15. KETTLE MORaine SCENIC DRIVE

262/626-2116

www.wiparks.net

Marked by distinctive green and white "Acorn" signs, the Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive is a 75-mile ramble through a riot of oak, maple and aspen fall color in the southern and northern units of the Kettle Moraine State Forests. In the northern unit, 60-foot-tall Parnell Tower and the National Shrine of Mary at Holy Hill offer glorious views of the surrounding glacial terrain. In the southern unit, you can visit Old World Wisconsin, a wonderful collection of 60 historic buildings organized in several ethnically themed pioneer villages.

16. LAKE GENEVA

This pair of Wisconsin Rustic Roads just east of Lake Geneva is loaded with fall color and glacial topography. Designated Rustic Roads to preserve their quiet, back-country character, R-11 and R-36 together offer 15 miles of serenity amid autumn's splendor. From Lake Geneva, travel east on Hwy 50 about 5 miles to its intersection with Cranberry Road/R-11. Continue east on Cranberry Road to Berndt Road, then north to Steele Road, then west to South Road, then south back to Hwy 50. www.wiparks.net

Hwy 78 from Mt. Horeb south to Blanchardville (18 miles) is a particularly pastoral drive through rolling farm fields in their harvest colors. At the halfway point near Daleyville, the brick spire of the Perry Lutheran Church can be seen for miles. At Blanchardville, turn southwest on Cty F to Yellowstone Lake State Park where you can revel in more fall color on thirteen miles of hiking trails.

SOUTHWEST

18. LOWER WISCONSIN RIVER

wiparks.net or lwr.staste.wi.us

Hwy 60 from Sauk Prairie to Prairie du Chien in southwestern Wisconsin is a wonderful autumn ramble along the Lower Wisconsin River. The route skirts a nearly unbroken series of protected wildlife areas along the river bottom. Near Spring Green you can stretch your legs at Frank Lloyd Wright's Taliesin or at the incomparable House on the Rock. Nearby, Tower Hill State Park is named for its shot tower and melting house where much of the lead shot used in the Civil War was manufactured. For panoramic views of the confluence of the Mississippi and Wisconsin Rivers, stop at Wyalusing State Park just south of Prairie du Chien.

19. TOMAH TO OSSEO

800/404-4008

www.blackrivercountry.net

It may seem counterintuitive, but I-94 between Tomah and Osseo in west-central Wisconsin is indeed a fall scenic drive favorite. Between Tomah and Black River Falls a series of glacial kames can be seen from the roadway - conical shaped mounds of glacial drift. Just north of Millston, a rest area includes a trail up a kame to a scenic overlook. The Black River State Forest here is particularly colorful in the fall. Between Black River Falls and Osseo, a series of elevation changes display the surrounding countryside in autumn panorama. You can top-off the trip with a slice of pie from the legendary Norske Nook in Osseo.

20. UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER VALLEY

800/658-9424

www.wigreatriverroad.org

The Upper Mississippi River Valley is fantastic in fall; a broad ribbon of water shouldered by sandstone bluffs daubed in amber and rust. Follow Hwy 35 from La Crosse to Prescott (108 miles) for charming river towns, antique shops, great cafes, migrating birds (it is, after all, the "Mississippi Flyway"), and stunning bluff-top views.

21. VERNON COUNTY

608/625-2960

<http://kvr.state.wi.us>

Curving through the hills and valleys of Vernon County, Hwy 131 from Viola to Ontario (21 miles) is a lovely stretch of highway. Just north of La Farge, stop at the Kickapoo Valley Reserve Visitor Center for maps to the 60 miles of hiking trails and 19 miles of mountain biking trails in the 8,569-acre Reserve. Further north on Hwy 131, stop atop Wildcat Mountain State Park for terrific high-ground views of the valley in its fall finery.

Winery Tours

The many German settlers who came to Wisconsin in the 1800s brought with them their winemaking skills, producing versions of traditional German wines made from grape varieties that were well-suited to the Wisconsin climate. In addition, winemakers learned to utilize the many fruits that could be grown here. The result is a palette of taste and color unrivaled in the Midwest. Cheers!

Fun on the water

RI & LINDA MILLER

Wisconsin. The very name stirs images of crystalline lakes in the tall pinestral forests, babbling brooks and sparkling trout streams, the inland seas of the Great Lakes, and the sweeping majesty of the Mighty Mississippi River. All are part of a glacialborn legacy that has willed Wisconsin an abundance of both water and water recreation.

Just how much water is there in Wisconsin?

At last count there were 14,949 inland lakes. That's nearly one million acres of water inside the state's borders. Wisconsin boasts 2,444 trout streams. End-to-end they'd stretch 9,235 miles. Another 5,002 warm-water streams extend 17,532 miles. Their total mileage would more than circle the globe! Add 238 miles along the banks of the Mississippi River and 860 miles of Great Lakes shoreline along Lake Michigan and Lake Superior.

That's a lot of water. We swim in it, fish on it, and sail over it. We water-ski, windsurf, jet-ski, power boat, canoe, kayak, whitewater raft and tube on it. We have a rich maritime heritage and we're very proud of it.

Wisconsin has been described as the Midwest's waterpark, a freshwater paradise. Indeed, the Chippewa Indians called the area "Ouisconsin - Land of the Gathering of the Waters."

Canoe Rivers

Native Americans in sleek birchbark canoes were the first to ply Wisconsin's wilderness rivers. Today, you can experience the same beauty and excitement when you canoe or kayak Wisconsin. Wisconsin rivers come in all shapes and sizes. They offer great adventure for beginners and experts alike. The following list is a guide to the state's more prominent waterways prepared in part by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

NORTHWEST

1. APPLE RIVER

800/654-6380

Outfitters in and around Somerset provide rentals and transportation for this popular tubing river. The first half of the trip offers relaxed family floating. The last half features a wild rapids area with a walkway along the side for the less adventurous.

2. BEAR RIVER

715/561-2922

www.ironcountywi.com

Tranquil, unspoiled, with good opportunities to see wildlife. Much of its 25-mile course passes through the Lac du Flambeau Chippewa Reservation. Upper portion is narrow with steady current through pine forests; lower stretch passes through Powell Marsh narrowing again before joining the Manitowish River as it enters the Turtle-Flambeau Flowage. Low hazard riffles. Several access points off town roads.

3. BOIS BRULE RIVER

715/372-5678

www.dnr.state.wi.us

World-famous for trout fishing, scenery and exciting rapids. Canoe trips can start at Stone's Bridge (Cty S) and proceed upstream or downstream. Upstream, there are no rapids. Downstream trips can end at canoe landings near Cty B, the ranger station, or at Hwy 2. The rapids between Cty B and Hwy 2 are more difficult than those found above Cty B. Canoe trips beyond Hwy 2 require another day to reach the river's mouth on Lake Superior. NOTE: A section below the Hwy 2 bridge contains dangerous rapids which no party should attempt unless accompanied by a knowledgeable guide. There are two state forest campgrounds located along the river.

4. CHIPPEWA RIVER

888/522-3866, 715/831-2345

www.chippewavalley.net

Rich in history and scenic beauty, the river is navigable for most of its length from the Holcombe Flowage south to the Mississippi River. Water levels are occasionally subject to rapid fluctuation - check locally. The 40-mile stretch below the dam at Eau Claire is generally gentle to moderate with adequate flow. Random portages may be necessary in dry weather or late on Sunday when dams up-river are drawn-up. Access is available at road crossings and developed landings. The last twelve miles run through the 13,000-acre Tiffany Wildlife Area.

5. FLAMBEAU RIVER

www.paddleflambeau.com

One of the best whitewater rivers in the Midwest. The north fork provides the most stable water flow, traversing five Wisconsin counties as it falls from the Willow to the Holcombe Flowage. Along its upper reaches, the eighteen miles from the Turtle Dam to Park Falls are rated Intermediate to Expert with many Class I & II rapids. The southern sections also provide the challenge of rapids and whitewater. The most traveled stretch is from Nine Mile Creek to Ladysmith. There are campsites and landings along the way in the Flambeau River State Forest. The Upper Flambeau above Nine Mile Creek and the stretch below Ladysmith to its junction with the Chippewa are also canoeable. Access is available at road crossings, impoundments and old logging roads.

6. MONTREAL RIVER - WEST BRANCH

www.ironcountywi.com

For most of its length, the Montreal River forms the border between Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Under high-water conditions, it is one of the Midwest's most challenging whitewater kayak rivers. Site of the 1994 ICF Junior World Kayak Championships. Water levels fluctuate greatly by season. Class II-Class V rapids and numerous falls. The lower portion flows through 300' deep Montreal River Canyon. Take out at Hwy 122 near Lake Superior. NOTE: This river has not been officially surveyed. For expert kayakers only. Low-water conditions make the river impassable.

7. NAMEKAGON RIVER

800/367-3306, 715/635-9696

www.nps.gov/sacn/

Known for camping and fishing, the Namekagon provides lake and river canoeing with some low hazard rapids. Low water is the chief obstacle; levels should be checked locally. Access is available at the towns of Cable, Seeley, Hayward and Trego, and road crossings.

8. RED CEDAR RIVER

888/523-3866, 715/831-2345

The Red Cedar runs 60 miles from Chetek to the Chippewa River below Menomonie. The upper 20 miles are relatively shallow and wide with a brisk current and lots of islands; an ideal float trip for novices and families. The lower 15 miles parallel the Red Cedar State Bike Trail. Fishing is good all along the river. Access is available at numerous county parks. Canoe rentals are offered at many towns along the river.

9. ST. CROIX RIVER

715/483-3284

www.nps.gov/sacn/

Designated a National Scenic River, the St. Croix combines smooth water and low to medium-hazard rapids. It is navigable from its source at Solon Springs to its mouth on the Mississippi River. There is, however, a dam and portage at St. Croix Falls. The lower portion (below St. Croix Falls) is open to commercial traffic. Many marked campsites are available along the river. The Riverway Visitor Center in St. Croix Falls will help you plan your canoe trip.

10. TURTLE RIVER

715/561-2922

www.ironcountywi.com

A relatively unknown and unspoiled river that meanders 27 miles through Iron County from Cedar Lake into the Turtle-Flambeau Flowage at Lake of the Falls. Some Class II-III rapids may require portaging dependent on water levels. Portage at Shay's Dam Falls required. Numerous public access points and state and county campsites.

11. YELLOW RIVER

715/349-7411

Flows out of Spooner Lake in Washburn County, through Burnett County to meet the St. Croix at Danbury. Stream and lake canoeing with a slow to moderate current and a few gentle rapids. Access is available at numerous road crossings and public landings. NOTE: Aquatic growth may hinder navigation in mid-summer.

NORTHEAST

12. BRULE RIVER

888/889-0049

www.florencewisconsin.com

Across the top of Forest and Florence Counties, the Brule is a boundary river between Wisconsin and Michigan. It is characterized by long stretches of slow water and low hazard rapids. Numerous streams flow into the river. Access is available at county and forest service roads. NOTE: below Brule River Dam and at the junction where the Michigamme joins the Brule to become the Menominee, the rapid increase in current combined with huge waves can potentially swamp an open craft.

13. FOX RIVER

800/236-6673, 920/734-3358

Flows across central and east-central Wisconsin to Green Bay. The current is slow with large areas of lake and marsh canoeing above Lake Butte des Morts. Access is available at many parks along the river. The Fox is navigable below Lake Winnebago, but recreational boat traffic is heavy.

14. MANITOWISH RIVER

888/626-9877, 715/543-8488

A river for variety and fun for canoeing, kayaking and tubing. Flows from the lake area southwest of Manitowish Waters (High Lake in Boulder Junction), through the Manitowish chain of lakes, to the Turtle-Flambeau Flowage in Iron County. The upper portion connects 25 lakes including the famous Manitowish Chain of Lakes. With numerous access points, boat landings, and more than 50 canoe-in (overnight) campsites, paddlers can design trips of any length. Downstream, the lower portion is steady current flowing through beautiful north country into the flowage. Great opportunities for wildlife viewing, especially eagles. Low to medium-hazard rapids and riffles. Canoe rentals and access maps available locally.

15. MENOMINEE RIVER

www.marinettescounty.com

Forming the eastern boundary of Marinette County, the Menominee separates Wisconsin from the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The upper stretch offers fast water and difficult rapids. Many rapids and dams must be portaged. NOTE: Portions of the upper river are extremely dangerous and should only be run by experts in decked boats. The lower river has a slower current with some low-hazard rapids.

16. OCONTO RIVER

888/626-6862, 920/834-6969

www.ocontocounty.org

Can be canoed its entire length. The northernmost section above Chute Pond (south of Mountain) features 15 rated rapids. Water levels must be medium high or above and should be checked locally.

NOTE: Because of difficult whitewater and obstacles, this section should not be attempted by a novice. The river below Chute Pond continues moderately to its mouth on Green Bay.

17. PESHTIGO RIVER

715/732-7510

www.marinettescounty.com

In northern Marinette County, the upper portion of the Peshtigo flows through the beautiful Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest. It has some of the most difficult whitewater in the Midwest. The river above Caldron Falls Reservoir, (City C), has long and difficult rapids that require a high degree of canoeing skill. Water levels should be medium high or above. Below Crivitz, the river slows and widens in sharp contrast. Reservoirs on the central river provide lake canoeing.

18. PINE RIVER

888/889-0049

www.florencewisconsin.com

The Pine River flows through northern Forest and Florence Counties to meet the Menominee west of Niagara. A state-designated wild river, it courses through some of the most primitive areas in the Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest. Spring and early summer are the best times to canoe as water levels drop significantly in the summer. Several rapids challenge the canoeist; a few require portages.

19. POPPLE RIVER

888/889-0049

www.florencewisconsin.com

A state-designated wild river, the Popple is a river of contrasts as it flows out of the Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest to meet the Pine River near Jennings Falls in Florence County. The Popple is characterized by long stretches of still water interrupted by short, exciting rapids. Best water levels occur in the spring and early summer.

20. TOMAHAWK RIVER

800/236-3006, 715/365-7466

Flows south out of the Willow Reservoir to Lake Nokomis in Oneida County. Offers a medium to fast current including two difficult rapids on the lower stretches of the river. Access is available at dams and road crossings.

21. UPPER WISCONSIN RIVER

715/365-8900

The upper Wisconsin River (Vilas-Oneida County to Merrill) is a relaxing way to view the natural beauty of the Northwoods. Winding through forest and farmland, the majority of the river offers a slow current with few obstacles. There is one portage at the Rainbow Lake Dam. Rainbow Rapids offer some excitement, but the rocks are usually submerged.

22. UPPER WOLF RIVER

888/526-4523

Offers variety, with relatively calm upper stretches to exciting whitewater below Lily. The stretch below Lily is recommended for experienced canoeists and is also popular for whitewater rafting. Area outfitters provide canoe and raft rentals. Access is available at road crossings with possible take-out near Markton and County Road M before entering the Menominee Indian Reservation. NOTE: Regulations on canoeing beyond Markton should be checked locally.

EAST CENTRAL

23. SHEBOYGAN RIVER

800/457-9497, 920/457-9495

Navigable, shallow waters begin at the Broughton Sheboygan Marsh and flow 25 miles to Lake Michigan. The marsh portion is accessible via Marsh Lodge, W7039 Cty SR near Elkhart Lake. There's a dam at the lower edge of the marsh. To canoe the lower section of the river, maps and a shuttle service are available at Thill Marine, 823 Commerce Ave, Sheboygan. You can also put in at Rochester Park in Sheboygan Falls and travel 13 miles to Sheboygan with 2 portages around dams.

CENTRAL

24. BLACK RIVER

800/404-4008, 715/284-4658

www.blackrivercountry.net

While the upper portions are considered too rocky for navigation, canoeing is popular on the central stretch through Jackson and Clark Counties. From Hall's Creek Landing, 13.5 miles north of Black River Falls, the river flows through quiet forests to a landing above the dam at Black River Falls. Below the dam, put in at the canoe landing at Third Street and enjoy a gorgeous 30-mile ride to New Amsterdam. Canoe rentals are readily available along the route. The current is slow and access is available at road crossings.

25. LEMONWEIR RIVER608/847-1904

Navigable from western Juneau County, (Cty H), to its mouth on the Wisconsin River south of the Hwy 82 bridge. The current is generally moderate to slow; portages are necessary at two dams. A number of sloughs near the mouth make it difficult to keep on the main channel.

26. LOWER WOLF RIVER800/235-8528, 715/524-2139

Although it has a steady current and wild appearance, the lower Wolf lacks the rough water characteristics of its upper stretches. Public landings are located in Shawano, Shiocton and New London. In the New London area, beginners can rent fiberglass canoes and tubes for family fun on both the Wolf and Little Wolf rivers. A trip down the lower Wolf can be continued through Lakes Poygan and Butte des Morts to Lake Winnebago. The river is well-known for spring walleye and white bass fishing.

27. WAUPACA CHAIN O' LAKES/CRYSTAL RIVER/WAUPACA RIVER888/417-4040, 715/258-7343

A popular area for beginners. Lake canoeing is available on any of the 23 connecting lakes in the Chain 'O Lakes. For family fun, rent a fiberglass canoe from area outfitters and enjoy a meandering ride down the Crystal River. The nearby Waupaca River flows gently past farms to its junction with the Wolf River just north of Partridge Lake.

28. UPPER BARABOO RIVER888/898-2550, 608/464-3114

Paddle the Upper Baraboo River, beginning in Union Center, through wetlands, bald eagle nesting areas and sandstone rock outcrops. Landing for kayaks and canoes and covered shelter located in Wonewoc. A local outfitter offers rentals and combination canoe/bike trips along the 400 State Trail. Easy paddling with a few small rapids, the Baraboo continues over 100 miles to Portage with access at many towns along the route. Portaging around fallen trees may be required.

SOUTHEAST29. LOWER FOX RIVER*800/366-8474, 262/542-0330

Known as the "Little Fox" or "Illinois Fox," this slow-current waterway meanders through Waukesha, Racine and Kenosha Counties into Illinois. Access is available at county and state highway crossings. Several dams must be portaged.

30. MILWAUKEE RIVER800/231-0903, 414/273-7222

Flows along a scenic route into the City of Milwaukee. The Milwaukee River features a number of low-level rapids. Several dams must be portaged. During low water, travel can be difficult due to exposed boulders and bars. Access is available at parks and dams. NOTE: Trips below Estabrook Park in Milwaukee are not recommended because of the heavy harbor traffic.

CAROL KNABE

▲ Canoeing the Lower Wisconsin River near Spring Green.

SOUTH CENTRAL31. BARABOO RIVER*800/227-2266, 608/356-8333

The Baraboo River traverses Sauk County to meet the Wisconsin River near Portage. It offers a relaxing canoe outing with no rapids or falls. In 2002, the final dam on the river was removed, making the Baraboo the longest river in the nation to be restored to its presettlement condition. The lower stretches flow through two wildlife areas. Access is available at road crossings.

32. PECATONICA AND EAST BRANCH OF THE PECATONICA608/465-3390

Flowing through eastern Lafayette County and western Green County, both rivers offer a mild current and picturesque scenery including farmland, wood lots and marsh. There is no rough water, but it may be necessary to skirt an occasional fallen tree. The current slows below the junction of the rivers near Browntown.

33. ROCK RIVER866/376-8767

www.rockcounty.org/recreation/recreation.htm

The Rock River meanders through massive wetlands and shallow lakes amidst the rich farmland and picturesque glacial terrain of Dodge, Jefferson and Rock Counties. From its headwaters in the Theresa Marsh, the Rock flows through the famous Horicon Marsh, Lake Sinissippi and Lake Koshkonong on its way to the Mississippi River. Access points at many road crossings and in Horicon, Watertown, Fort Atkinson, Janesville and Beloit. The current is relaxing, but be prepared to portage several dams and an occasional fallen tree.

34. SUGAR RIVER888/222-9111, 608/325-4636www.greencounty.org

The river flows gently through the forested riverbanks and rich farmlands of eastern Green County. Enjoy three wildlife areas enroute. Two dams must be portaged on the upper river; the Albany Dam has a stairway, while the Decatur Dam can be by-passed to Brodhead by using the mill race waterway. The upper river is open with clearance around log jams. The lower river from the Hwy 11 bridge to the state line is navigable, but be prepared to portage fallen trees.

35. YAHARA RIVER608/246-3896

www.co.dane.wi.us/lwrdr/parks/boating-info.asp

Flows from Madison's four lakes across Dane County to the Rock River. Access is available on either Lake Mendota or Lake Monona, and along the river at road crossings. Locks lead through the series of lakes; some dams need portaging. The current is slow. Additional portages may be necessary during low water.

SOUTHWEST36. GRANT RIVER*608/723-2125

Winds through central Grant County to meet the Mississippi River just north of Potosi. Characterized by deep valleys bounded by rocky ledges and high bluffs. One-hour to three-day trips available. Frequent rapids (Class I), but minimal portaging. Wide variety of wildlife and timber. Sixteen access points.

37. KICKAPOO RIVER608/637-2575

www.visitvernoncounty.com/waterrecreation.html

Known as the crookedest river in the world, the Kickapoo is navigable its entire length from just north of Ontario to the Wisconsin River at Wauzeka. This popular river offers access at numerous road crossings. Rentals are available locally. The current is relaxing, but be prepared to portage several dams and an occasional fallen tree.

38. LA CROSSE RIVER800/658-9424, 608/782-2366

Meandering through natural wetlands and native prairies on its way to the Mississippi River, the La Crosse River provides the canoe enthusiast with 15-1/2 miles of scenic beauty from Sparta to Rockland. This spring-fed river allows for ample water supply year around. The presence of an abundance of wildlife contributes to this enjoyable two-hour excursion. The official canoe landing in Sparta is located across from Fisherman's Park; a County landing is located east of Rockland at Sixth Drive. Further west, the 13 miles from the West Salem Dam to Riverside Park in La Crosse travels through tall pine stands, small rapids and the La Crosse River Marsh. Access sites include two county landings and Veterans Memorial Park. Rental canoes are available in the area.

39. LOWER WISCONSIN RIVER800/221-3792, 608/739-3188lwr.state.wi.us

The Lower Wisconsin River flows more than 300 miles across the state from Merrill to the river's junction with the Mississippi River at Prairie du Chien. Known as "the nation's hardest working river," it has many power dams and reservoirs - more than ten between Merrill and Prairie du Sac. Canoeing is especially popular along the lower stretch with beautiful scenery and numerous islands. The southern 92 miles of the river below Prairie du Sac is attractive for family outings as there are no dams to portage. Access and canoe rentals are available at many towns along the way.

40. MISSISSIPPI RIVER608/783-8403

www.fws.gov/midwest/uppermississippi

Though not traditionally a canoeing river due to its varied currents and heavy commercial traffic, the river includes two canoe trails in the Upper Mississippi River National Wildlife and Fish Refuge - La Crosse District. Maps to both the Long Lake Canoe Trail near Trempealeau and the Goose Island Canoe Trail near La Crosse are available by calling the La Crosse District Headquarters.

41. PLATTE RIVER608/723-2125www.grantcounty.org

19. RACINE

Fishing Charters of Racine

Racine WI 53403

800/475-6113, 262/633-6113

www.fishracine.com

Organized in 1974, Fishing Charters of Racine is an association of 13 captains and their vessels sailing out of three marinas in Racine. Boats range from 27-ft to 43-ft. Captains average 25 years experience charter fishing on Lake Michigan and are USCG-licensed. All boats are fully-outfitted for Great Lakes sportfishing.

Great Lakes Fisheries

Wisconsin's Great Lakes waters are some of the most productive in the world with tremendous potential for trophy fish.

In 2008, trout and salmon sportfishing on Wisconsin's Lake Michigan tallied 360,340 fish including 256,796 Chinook salmon, 25,453 Coho salmon, 41,552 Brown trout, 23,763 Brook trout, and 12,763 Lake trout.

Additionally, Lake Michigan produced 51,013 walleye, 8,656 Smallmouth bass and 217,500 Yellow perch. The Wisconsin DNR's Lake Michigan Management Report for 2008 notes that, "Although the overall harvest was down, the Chinook salmon harvest was at a respectable level." Numerous Chinooks exceeding 20 pounds were taken.

Trophy fish are the star attractions, but they aren't the only thing drawing anglers to the Great Lakes. The fishing itself is unique. Ocean fishing is the nearest thing to it. No surprise, since the Great Lakes are like inland seas. Trolling, surfcasting, and stream, pier and breakwater fishing are the choices, each with its own appeal. The 2008 Management Report estimates that Wisconsin's Lake Michigan anglers spent nearly 2.5 million hours pursuing their open water passion.

Wisconsin's Great Lakes continue to provide exceptional sportfishing, thanks in large part to an aggressive stocking program that augments natural reproduction. In 2009, the Wisconsin DNR stocked Lake Michigan with .94 million Brown trout, 1 million Chinook salmon, 344,000 Coho salmon, 636,000 steelhead, and 931,000 Lake trout.

Wisconsin is the home of a vibrant sportfishing industry. Seventeen port cities on Lake Michigan and another seven on Lake Superior harbor 335 charter-fishing operations. You'll find experienced captains and fully equipped boats ready to take you on the blue-water fishing adventure of a lifetime.

Fish on!

Travel Green.

Stop Invasives. When boating, be sure to drain your bilge and live well, remove all weeds and destroy any unused bait.

Charter Sailing

Sail away for a day or a week! Wisconsin's Great lakes legacy brings true blue-water sailing to the Midwest. These businesses rent sailboats from 18-foot scows to 45-foot sloops, all available for overnight sailing adventures. Your sailing adventure can include basic instruction from an on-board captain; or, with the proper certification, you can captain your own cruise on a bareboat charter.

Fun in the snow

MARY LANGENFELD

Wisconsin's winter is the perfect complement to summer. It's a season that brings fresh outdoor adventure; a new playground of snow and ice lasting from mid-December through March.

By late November, Wisconsin's nighttime temperatures have fallen below freezing. Downhill skiing and snowboarding facilities begin to make snow and will continually add to their base throughout the season, regardless of the natural snowfall. Many ski areas open in early December and all are in full swing for the Christmas holidays.

By mid-December, average daily temperatures in Wisconsin have fallen below freezing. Ice has formed on lakes and ponds and thickens with each passing day. Generally, snow depths throughout the state are adequate for crosscountry skiing and snowmobiling. Ice fishing can start as early as mid-December in the north and early January in the south.

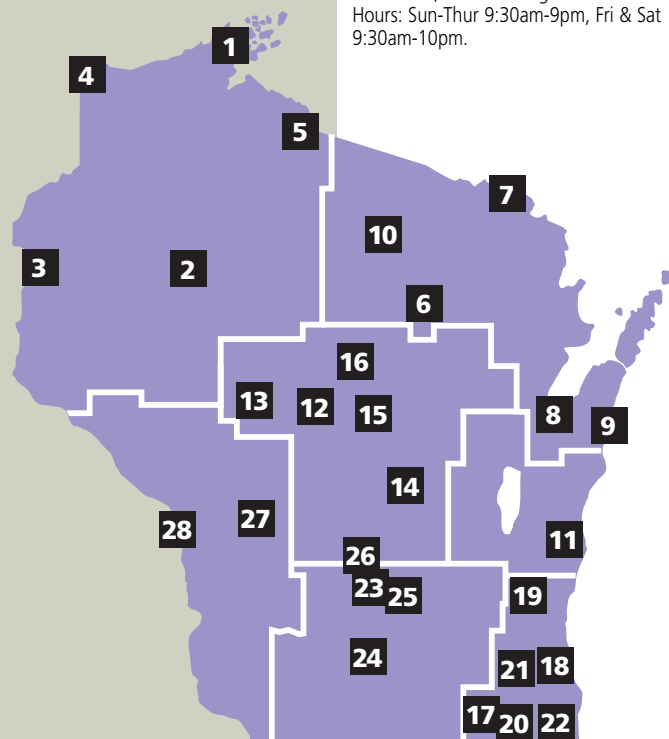

The average annual snowfall in Wisconsin, statewide, is 46.3 inches. Snowfall is heaviest in January, averaging 10.6 inches, while December, February and March each average about 9 inches. Wisconsin's snow cover lasts through March and even into early April in the northern third of the state.

Wisconsin's relatively mild winter temperatures coupled with four months or more of solid snow cover make the state a true winter playground!

◀ Tyrol Basin Ski and Snowboard Area, Mount Horeb.

Downhill Skiing & Snowboarding

On skis or a snowboard, Wisconsin's downhill season is a time to play! Statewide, twenty-nine downhill destinations offer quality slopes groomed with half-mile runs, moguls and terrain parks. Most facilities have snow-making capability to open the season early and close it late. Enjoy the latest in lift technology, equipment rental, instruction and concessions.

Tubing Hills

One of the fastest-growing segments of winter recreation, tubing in Wisconsin has become uber-popular. Downhill facilities have added tubing runs – or chutes – to their offerings so that whole families can now hit the slopes together. These facilities offer rope tows and “magic carpets” to return tubers to the top of their hills quickly and effortlessly. So bring the kids – they’re gonna love it.

Sleighrides

If you listen carefully, you can hear them – sleigh bells softly ringing over the snowy fields of Wisconsin. Here's a real slice of Americana. What could be better than an old-fashioned sleighride behind the gentle rhythms of genuine "horse power?" Grab a partner and enjoy snow beneath runners, the wind in the trees, moon glow on the snow, the stomp of hooves, and steamy hot cocoa. Isn't it romantic?

...because we printed this publication on recycled paper.

We did our part. Now you do yours.

As you vacation, recycle cans, bottles, paper and plastics. When you camp, leave no trace. Purchase your firewood in Wisconsin; don't bring any from out-of-state. When you rent a car, get one that's fuel-efficient. When you leave your hotel room, turn off the lights and the AC. When you trailer your boat, help control invasive species by draining your bilge and live well, removing weeds, and destroying any unused bait.

And as you travel, patronize certified Travel Green Wisconsin businesses.
They've invested in sustainable travel practices.
